

The Ear Club: Ervin R. Hafter's Academic Family

Compiled and Illustrated by Frederick J. Gallun, G. Christopher Stecker, Psyche Loui, and Anastasios Sarampalis

Ervin R. Hafter is a direct academic descendent of Johannes Müller, Wilhelm Wundt, William James, James Cattell, Robert Woodworth, and Warner Brown. Erv's PhD advisor, Lloyd Jeffress, is one of the most renowned names in binaural hearing theory.

During the more than forty years that Erv has been teaching and researching at the University of California, Berkeley, he has mentored over numerous PhD students and postdocs, many whom have gone on to run labs of their own and have graduated and supervised many of their own students.

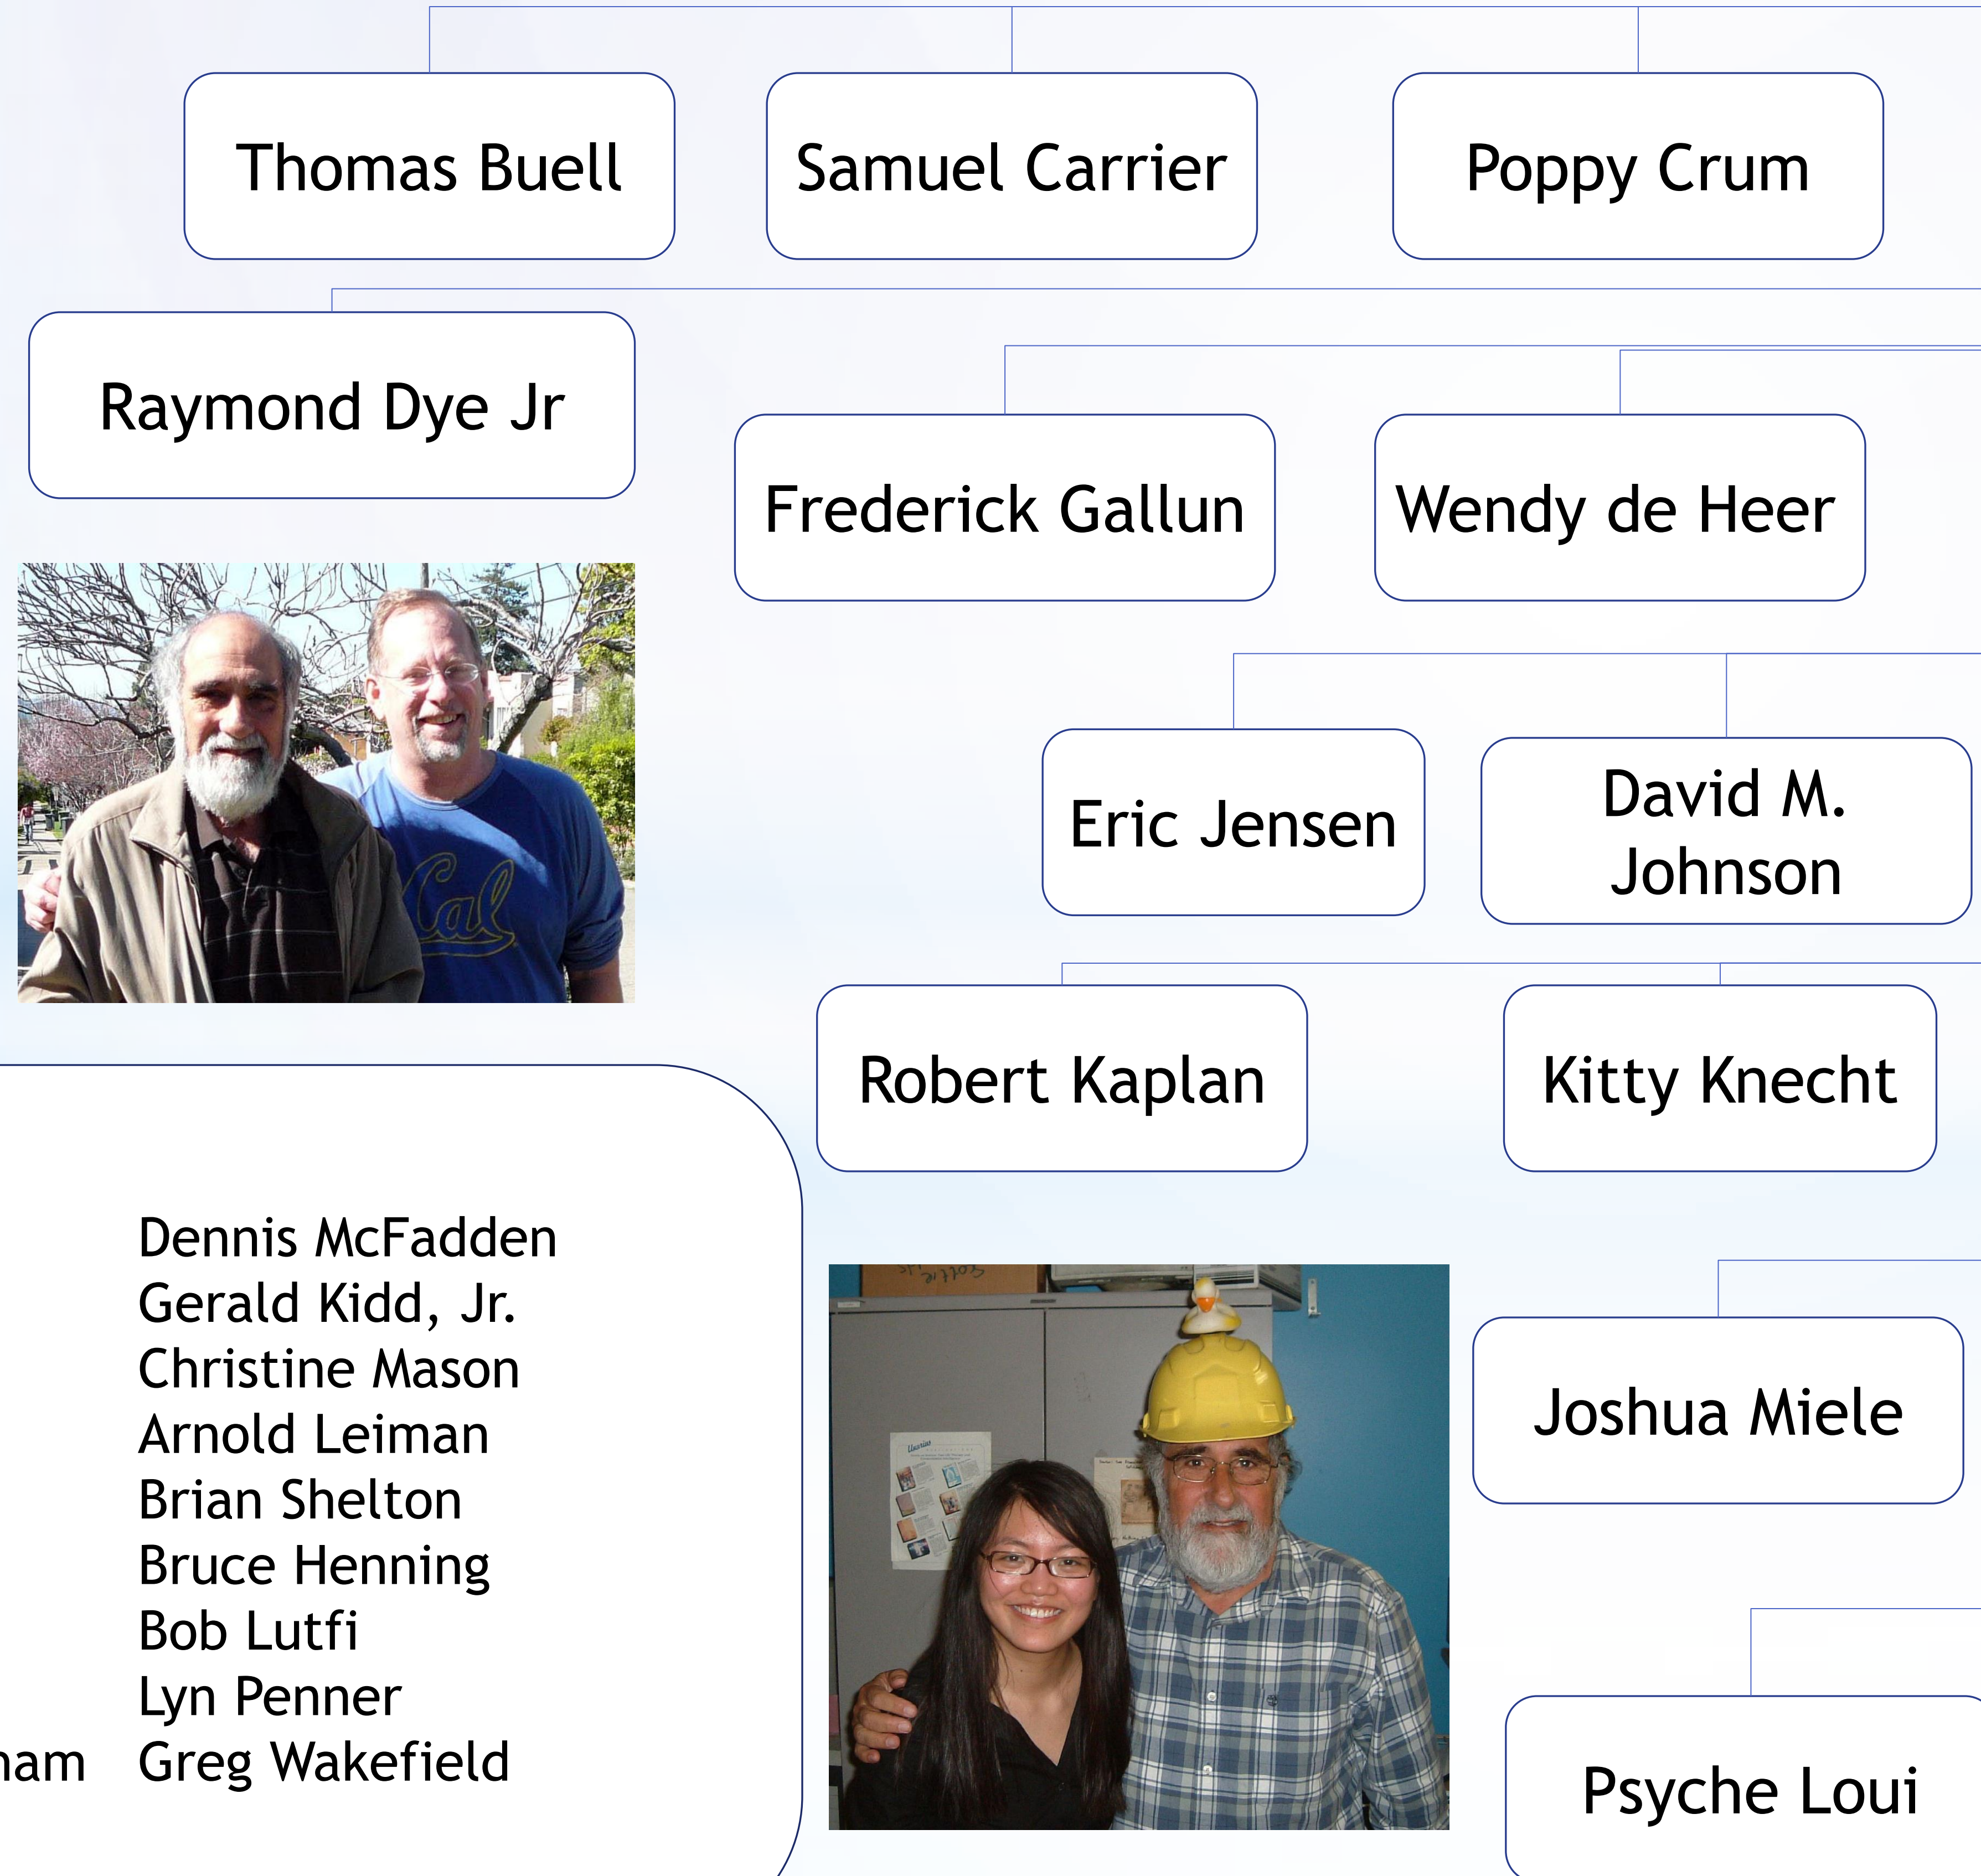

This poster can only hint at the web of connections that all started with the Hafter Lab and the weekly seminar series, the Ear Club, where for decades auditory scientists from around the world have been coming together to talk, listen, and make friends for a lifetime.
